

MAU CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

Speaker Profile: John Lee, CFA

A dynamic speaker with a global perspective

John is a CFA charter holder and has degrees in economics and engineering from Rice University. He previously studied under Mr. James Turk, a renowned authority on the gold market. John founded Mau Capital Management in 2004.

John has been investing in equities for over ten years and is a keen student of market history and psychology. Since 2001, Mr. Lee has researched hundreds of mining companies and personally met with dozens of management teams.

John is a speaker at all major resource conferences, including the Cambridge House resource conference series among others, and shares his thoughts and analysis on various online news websites such as Kitco.com. John has gained invaluable insights by living in three continents and making frequent globe-spanning site visits.

As a speaker, John Lee is dynamic, animated and always a strong draw at any conference. His specialty is commenting on the resource and currency markets, as well as global economic trends. John is a native of Taiwan and can present in Mandarin Chinese as well as English. Currently, John is booking for summer/fall season speaking engagements.
